

Ken Weeper, the son of the first Capuchin monkey to have been admitted to Harvard, and the delightful Samantha, drop out of school and travel the world with Vango – their travel vehicle and guiding companion. From Boston to Bogota to Berlin they encounter (and incite) social rebellion and economic transition, and befriend such remarkable creatures as Matsya – the talking goldfish – and the beautiful but disfigured Isabel Flores de Olivia. This is a journey of self-delusion and self-discovery that will surprise all!
